Texas Connects Coalition

"I have attended a few free computer classes before, specifically on Microsoft Word and other topics. But, THIS class was so much better." -- A student in a College Station computer center

We serve 17 Texas counties as the lead organization of the Texas Connects Coalition, a nonprofit collaboration with Austin Free-Net bringing technology tools and training to underserved communities.

We Empower Communities Through Technology

TFA Gives A Texas-Sized Thank You

Everyone at Technology For All is grateful for the opportunity to serve 90 Texas communities throughout Texas via the Texas Connects Coalition program. To date, we have impacted almost 900,000 Texans by providing free technology access, skills and support, essential in this economy.

This accomplishment would not be possible without the tireless work and unwavering support of many people. And so, during this Thanksgiving week, we would like to say Thank you! to:

Our Program Specialists, who stay late helping seniors and children, first-time computer users and smart phone-only users, entrepreneurs and students become more confident in their skills and in their world,

Our 90 community-based organizational partners who collaborate with us to meet the needs of diverse communities from Houston to San Antonio, and everywhere in between,

Our caring and generous donors, including recent contributors like Peggy Korth at our computer center at the Bulverde/Spring Branch Library, the NRG Energy Limestone Employees Fund and the Texas Westmoreland Coal Company,

And to our participants who inspire us every day with their courage, persistence and excitement to learn,

Thank You!

What Our Participants Say

"Thanks for the opportunity to learn Computer Basics—to enhance the little knowledge I have so I feel more confident to try this changing technology." -- Joan

"Thank you for my wonderful teacher, Rebecca Miller. She is kind, compassionate, patient, very knowledgeable and willing to work with each person individually." -- Dorothy

"I personally thank everyone who make it possible for me to grow and develop in this life arena. Thank you, TFA, for the opportunity to learn." -- Chester

"Jerry: Thank you for your help. You're a great teacher. It is such a big help to have someone like yourself in this time of need. What you're doing is wonderful!" -- Debi
